SHANGHAL, Aug. 5.-Letters received here from Col. Von Hannekin, former aide-de-camp to the Chinese Viceroy, Li Hung Chang, confirm the reports of the insubordination of the Chinese troops aboard the transport Kow Shing. It is believed here that the affidavits made by Capt. Galsworthy and Chief Officer Tamplin, of the Kow Shing, were signed under compulsion. Capt. Galsworthy and his companions were taken from Chemulpo to Sasebo, on July 29, and were released on Aug. 4.

Col. von Hannekin has forwarded the following statement at the request of the Indo-China Company:

"The Japanese cruiser Naniwa, during the morning of July 25, ordered the Kow Shing to anchor. She obeyed, and some Japanese officers boarded her and examined the ship's papers. They were quite satisfied that she was a British steamer, but they ordered the Kow Shing Off Yarmouth Vigilant and Britannia to follow the Naniwa to Japan. "The captain then asked for permission to return direct to Taku, from which port he had cleared in time of peace. The Japanese did not reply, and hoisted a signal notifying us to leave the steamer immediately. Capt. Galsworthy also declined to do this, as the Chinese troops would not permit him.

"Then the Naniwa, without any further warning, discharged a torpedo at us and opened fire upon us with her guns. The Kow Shing sank about thirty minutes after the torpedo exploded at her side.

The grand stand of the Chicago Club, in West Side Park, Chicago, was destroyed by fire during the Chicago-Cincinnati game yesterday. It broke out in the last half of the sixth inning, when the game stood 8 to 2 in favor of the Chicagoes. Of course the game was stopped. It is reported that a large number of speciators were severely injured by being caught by a barbed wire fence erected to prevent speciators from encroaching onto the field. The Chicago Club has grounds at Thirty-fifth street and Wentworth avenue, and games will be played there for the present. The loss to the Club was $12.00. This is the second fire on a ball field this season, and strangely, too, while a game was in progress. And had it not been for the vigilance of Carpenter Parker, of the Polo Grounds, some weeks ago, there might have been a story to write of the burning of the grand stand in New York's ball park. But the New York management has taken unusual precautions, and a regular patrol system is in vogue beneath the grand stand and other parts of the field throughout each game.

we will not accept their invitation to go in to their primaries. That would be worse than folly. It would be suicide. By refusing we furnish them with the maries, in the Convention and at the poils on the lines laid out by Scnator Murphy.

"I think," continued Mr. Ridgway, "Senator Murphy's proposition is fair. All Democrats should have representation. Let those who claim to be in the majority prove it. If they have the votes they can easily carry the primaries. This is not a threat, it is a fair proposition. The minority should not attempt to break into the organization like burglars in the night. Candidates should not be asked to step aside merely because some other fellows want the nominations. Let the majority rule, I say, and after having made a fight and lost, let those who have been fairly beaten submit. That is Democracy; that is the only way to secure harmony."

It must be remembered that Mr. Ridgway was in Washington recently and talked with Senator Hill. There is a great similarity between Senator Murphy's declaration of principle and Mr.

Hill.

If the friends of good government would accept the Murphy idea they would be in a hopeless minority in the State Convention. In all the sixty counties of the State, excepting three, Albany, Clinton and Onondaga, the machine is in absolute control of the organization, and the opposition would not have the slightest chance of winning a primary.

Mr. Morrell is rich and willing to spend his money freely and may have the fun for his cash. Gov. Flower and Mayor Gliroy were not at their hotels this morning, and Lieut.-Gov. Mr. Reinhart himself stated that so far as he had seen Mr. Little's report it was practically correct, but that he (Reinhart) differed with Mr. Little regarding the $7,000,000 item, but only as one accountant might differ with another as to how certain matters should be put on the books.

But, in spite of all this, it is a fact that the statement of Mr. Little's examination, which was to have been made public a fortnight ago, has been withheld, and the accounts have all been gone over again.

neath generally for some time. He had not been able to work for over a month. When he arose thi morning he composited that he could not raise his right arm. His wife combed his hair and sent him out on some business which he said he had to attend to. He returned later with some money which he banded to his wife saying.

You can use this to bury me.

He then went into the shop and sat on the old worm bench, where he had worked for so many years.

There he was sitting, with his head bowed on his breast, and the blood pouring from a hole in his temple, when at the sound of a pistol-shot, his wife ran into the shop.

always looking for "cinch" bets had a very hard time of it at Brighton on Saturday, and most of them went home cause of the downfall was the defeat of very short prices. George Dixon was the first to lose. On form he looked to be the "cinchlest kind of a cinch," and he closed at 1 to 2. Reiff rode a bad race, allowing himself to be shut off on the far turn, and then finishing second

Many of the poorer owners at Brighton will take their horses to the meeting to be held at Parkway, beginning Wednesday, preferring to pick up a little sure money than to take a chance at the bigger game at Jerome Park. Five races will be given daily, the purses ranging from $100 to $125.
